
No extra reference analyses are needed: the same standards fit the transfer and set the interval.